"...olving the placement of children are some difficult cases a judge must decide. The team has been of immeasurable assistance with those cases. But even more a guardian ad litem is the voice and the child. They provide a ray of hope."

—Retired Judge Thomas C. Honzel,

Give hope, be a voice

Meeting the needs of abused and neglected children through the work of trained volunteers is the aim of the CASA (Court Appointed Special Advocates) program of Montana. Its 15 local nonprofit groups work together to meet the needs of abused and neglected children. All share a common concern for the welfare of Montana's children and a desire to provide a voice, a hope and a future for them.

CASA volunteers are appointed by judges to speak up for the best interest of children who have been removed from their homes through no fault of their own. These children, who have suffered abuse or neglect, are usually in group homes or the foster care system.

MISSION

CASA of Montana, together with local programs, supports and promotes court-appointed volunteer advocacy for abused and neglected children so they can thrive in safe, permanent homes.

GOAL

Provide a CASA volunteer for every Montana child who needs one.
